

Malte Ebert is set to release his new single “All The Time” on August 31st! Following the massive success of his first release, “Rather Be”, this upcoming single will get your foot tapping instantly with its irresistible dance pop beat. Malte’s sound has earned him comparisons to superstars like Justin Timberlake, MØ and Diplo. “All The Time” arrives at just the right moment in Malte’s career, as his recent achievements have opened the door to so many opportunities and provided him the perfect platform to launch from.

Malte Ebert’s list of accomplishments since his beginnings are groundbreaking. Prior to the 24-year-old singer-songwriter’s current singles, Malte was known to fans as Gulddreng, an ‘alter ego’-like character who became the biggest streaming sensation in Denmark in less than 2 years from his Universal signing in 2016. In just 7 months, he had released 7 singles, against the traditional release single release format, which all went #1 and surpassed 50 million streams in just Denmark. By the end of 2017, that number increased to 124 million streams and over 330,000 social media fans.

In February 2018 Gulddreng announced the end of his career in front of 15,000 fans in a sold out arena in Copenhagen and has since come back to life in a new form, this time as himself, Malte Ebert. Securing more than 15 New Music Friday placement including the US, Malaysia and the Philippines, his single “Rather Be” has already acquired 4 million streams worldwide in just 7 weeks, an extremely impressive introduction to this new chapter.

Next up for Malte Ebert, even bigger and better expectations for the absolute HIT “All The Time”!
